

CHECK YOUR LEARNING

Suggested Answers

1. The smallest building blocks of life are cells.
2. 1) All life forms consist of at least one cell.
2) The cell is the basic unit of life.
3) All cells come from pre-existing cells.
3. Living things require energy. Since you are an animal, you must obtain energy by consuming food made by other organisms, such as plants.
4. A chromosome is a long strand of DNA. The DNA contains genetic information.
5. A cell membrane supports a cell and allows materials to move in and out of it.
6. Offspring get their genetic information from their parents.